

The City of Atlanta Announces an

Industry Forum on Upcoming Solid Waste Management Services Opportunities

On September 28, 2017, the City of Atlanta will host an industry forum to introduce its planned procurement approach for Solid Waste Management Services. The Program reflects the Department of Public Works' and the Department of Watershed Management's emphasis on increased waste diversion targets while maintaining cost-effective services for City residents. This approach will lead to the following:

- Managed cost through longer-term, high-volume contracting opportunities
- Consolidated contracts and service providers
- New infrastructure investment opportunities

Please join us for an overview of the City's procurement approach for Solid Waste Management Services, followed by a networking session.
